Divided By

A new Forum Theatre play created and performed by LYT's Young Touring Company

About the Young Touring Company

LYT's Young Touring Company is made up of 5 young theatre makers, aged 16-24, who have come together to create and tour a new play. Supported by a professional production team and a professional actor, they have taken on roles as actors and production assistants to devise the play you will see tonight. Everything you see in Divided By - the story, dialogue and design - comes from them. They are currently touring the play to schools and youth settings across Lewisham.

What is Forum Theatre?

Forum Theatre is an interactive technique that involves the audience in making better choices for the main character on stage. After the play has finished, you will have a chance to talk to the characters, suggest ways that they could handle their situation differently, and even come up on stage to see if you can achieve a better outcome.

How Was the Play Created?

When creating the play, we used the theme of loss as a starting point. We thought about what, who and where creates stress in young people's lives. Once we had created the initial play, we showed it to LYT's Junior Youth Theatre and Members' Committee - a group of young people who help make decisions for the company. They gave us great feedback, came up with ideas of what could happen next in the story and helped us create the end of the play.
